WINNERS --- This past spring semester the Library System asked the students, faculty, and staff to give an assessment of the Sturgis and Johnson Libraries with the LibQual+ Survey. We thank you for your candid and fair responses. In previous years, with the help of this survey, we heard you and brought about positive changes in the library. This year we offered a variety of randomly selected prizes to survey participants. The grand prize winners Isaac Efik (left) and Gary Mitchell (right), each won FitBits. Congratulations!

KSU LIBRARIES SALUTE THE YEAR OF RUSSIA --

Privyet! (Hello!) As you probably know, the University highlights a country or culture each academic year. During this time multiple departments collaborate on classes, events, lectures, and film festivals to bring awareness of the history, language, arts and other aspects of the chosen culture.

This year, the KSU Library System is pleased to announce that we are participating in the University’s Year of Russia events. We have three librarians serving on the Year of Russia Planning Committee, and other staff will be joining in the fun. We have plans for displays, feature book trees of Russian authors and historical figures, and various other fun topics to keep an eye out for as the year progresses.

For more information about the year of Russia, and a list of events this academic year, see the Year of Russia homepage: http://dga.kennesaw.edu/yearof/russia
