March, Op. 99 (1943) | Sergei Prokofiev

Prokofiev wrote the March, Op. 99 in 1943-44 for a Soviet military band. It received its premiere in the form of a radio broadcast from Moscow on April 30, 1944. While the details of the impetus for its composition are unclear, it is possible that it was written for May Day, an important Soviet holiday. The March made its way to the West in part thanks to Paul Yoder, who arranged it for Western instrumentation shortly after its Russian premiere. It was first heard in the United States on May 31, 1945, with Serge Koussevitzky conducting the Combat Infantry Band. Prokofiev reused substantial sections of the March in the last opera he would complete, Story of a Real Man, in 1947-48.

Symphony for Band (1952) | Morton Gould

Mvt. 1: Epitaphs

Gould’s fourth symphony was composed for the West Point Sesquicentennial Celebration, marking 150 years of progress at the United States Military Academy. One of the first landmark symphonies composed specifically for wind band, Gould’s Symphony No. 4 is a two-movement masterwork. Gould employs both traditional and modern techniques, adeptly changing colors and styles to engage the listener. He even calls for a marching machine in the first movement.

The composer writes:

"The first movement, Epitaphs, is both lyrical and dramatic. The quiet and melodic opening statement of the main theme leads directly into a broad and noble exposition of one of the motifs, becoming a passacaglia (a musical form based on continuous variations over a ground bass) based on a martial theme first stated by the tuba. After a series of variations which grow in intensity, the opening lyricism, combined with the passacaglia motif and an allusion to Taps, makes a quiet but dissonant closing to the first movement.

The second and final movement is lusty and gay in character. The texture is a stylization of marching tunes that parades past in an array of embellishments and rhythmic variants. At one point there is a simulation of a fife and drum corps which, incidentally, was the instrumentation of the original West Point Band. After a brief transformed restatement of the themes in the first movement, the work finishes in a virtuoso coda of martial fanfares and flourishes.”

– program notes by Norman E. Smith

Blow it Up, Start Again (2011) | Jonathan Newman

Blow it up, Start Again (2011) was originally commissioned in 2011 by the Chicago Youth Symphony Orchestra and their director, Allen Tinkham. Staying true to the BCM International (and his personal) philosophy, this “concertized dubstep” piece was originally written to highlight the unique capabilities of string instruments. With sul ponticello string glissandos, multi-octave leaps, rapid repeated staccati, lengthy sustained chords, and a huge section of tremolos, this piece was intentionally written to be non-transferable to another medium. However, after its successful premier by the CYSO at the Midwest Band and Orchestra Clinic, a transcription for wind band was inevitable. While the bombastic and fortissimo nature of the piece translated well for the wind band setting, many unique string features posed a challenge. With the careful work of Mr. Newman, the wind band transcription of Blow It Up, Start Again is a “riotously funky” musical depiction of the famous Guy Fawkes “Gunpowder Plot” of 1605. This long-lived tale describes an infamous attempt to return the English Parliament to Catholic rule by blowing it up. The heart of this piece lies in Mr. Newman’s single program note:

“If the system isn’t working anymore, then do what Guy Fawkes tried and go anarchist: Blow it all up, and start again.”

Jonathan Newman is a modern day composer who writes music that highlights the unique capabilities of instruments within each ensemble. As a founding member of the composer-consortium BCM International, Mr. Newman, in his music, exemplifies their philosophy of “enriching the repertoire with music unbound by traditional thought or idiomatic cliché.” Jonathan Newman pursued and completed degrees in composition and conducting at Boston University’s School for the Arts (MusB) and The Juilliard School (MusM) where he received the Charles Ives Scholarship. While at Boston University and Juilliard, Mr. Newman studied composition under Richard Cornell, Charles Fussell, and John Corigliano and conducting with Lukas Foss and Miguel Harth-Bedoya.

O Magnum Mysterium (1994) | Morten Lauridsen
arr. H. Robert Reynolds

Morton Lauridsen (b. 1943) is an American composer of principally choral music. He is best known for his six vocal cycles and his setting of O Magnum Mysterium. He is a 3-time Grammy nominee and the recipient of numerous awards, including the National Medal of Arts, presented to him by President George W. Bush in 2007. He was composer in residence for the Los Angeles Masters Chorale (which premiered O Magnum Mysterium) from 1994-2001. He has been a professor of composition at USC-Thornton, where is currently Distinguished Professor of Composition, for more than three decades.

O Magnum Mysterium has been received at thousands of performances and at least 100 professional recordings since its 1994 premiere, making it one of the most performed compositions of the last 20 years in its original setting. The wind band arrangement by H. Robert Reynolds, retired director of the University of Michigan Bands, can claim similar accolades within wind band circles. Of his original version, Lauridsen writes:

"For centuries, composers have been inspired by the beautiful O Magnum Mysterium text with its depiction of the birth of the new-born King amongst the lowly animals and shepherds. This affirmation of God’s grace to the meek and the adoration of the Blessed Virgin are celebrated in my setting through a quiet song of profound inner joy."

March from "Symphonic Metamorphosis" (1943) | Paul Hindemith

Paul Hindemith (1895-1963) was born at Hanau, Germany. He was an excellent violinist and leader of the Frankfurt Opera Orchestra. He was persecuted by the Nazis because his wife was half-Jewish and his own musical compositions were considered degenerate. He emigrated to the U.S. and joined the music faculty of Yale University.

Hindemith began to write a ballet based on the music of German composer Carl Maria von Weber but after a falling out with his collaborator he converted his sketches into an orchestral work. March, the fourth movement, opens with fanfares. Weber’s original theme is a funeral march to which Hindemith doubles the tempo. March has a catchy tune and grows increasingly spectacular, ending fortissimo.
O Magnum Mysterium | Morten Lauridsen

O magnum mysterium, et admirabile sacramentum, ut animalia viderent Dominum natum, iacentem in praesepio! Beata Virgo, cujus viscera meruerunt portare Dominum Iesum Christum. Alleluia!

O great mystery, and wonderful sacrament, that animals should see the newborn Lord, lying in a manger! Blessed is the Virgin whose womb was worthy to bear our Saviour, Jesus Christ. Alleluia!

Welcome to the Bailey Performance Center!

The School of Music at Kennesaw State University is an exciting place! We have a wonderful slate of performances planned for this year's Signature Series, and if you have not yet purchased your season tickets, I encourage you to do so as soon as possible. The Atlanta Symphony returns again this year as well as a wonderful slate of other performances.

The Dr. Bobbie Bailey and Family Performance Center is celebrating its 10th Anniversary Season this year. When this building opened in October of 2007, it was transformational for the School of Music and for KSU! It continues to be a jewel in our crown and musicians from around the world love to perform here because of the wonderful acoustic properties of Morgan Hall.

We would love to have you join us the weekend of October 7th-8th. We will have an alumni recital on the 7th and a grand celebration Sunday afternoon October 8th, with full choir and orchestra to celebrate all this Center has meant to us these past 10 years! In honor of the Bailey 10th Anniversary, we will officially launch our Name a Seat Campaign during our celebration in October. What a wonderful way to honor a loved one or to provide for future programming for Morgan Hall.

I look forward to a long and rewarding relationship with you. With your continued support of music and the arts, I look forward to all that we will accomplish together!
