Fall 2002

Editorial Matter

Andrew I. E. Ewoh
Prairie View A&M University, aiewoh@pvamu.edu

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.kennesaw.edu/assr

Recommended Citation
Available at: https://digitalcommons.kennesaw.edu/assr/vol2/iss2/7

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by DigitalCommons@Kennesaw State University. It has been accepted for inclusion in African Social Science Review by an authorized editor of DigitalCommons@Kennesaw State University. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@kennesaw.edu.
AFRICAN
Social Science Review

The African Journal of Social Science,
Public and International Affairs

Andrew I. E. Ewoh
Editor-in-Chief

Volume 2, Number 2, Fall 2002

Published by DigitalCommons@Kennesaw State University, 2002
All book reviews should be addressed to the Book Review Editor.
Postmaster: Send all address changes to:

African Social Science Review
Center for International and Area Studies
Prairie View A&M University
P. O. Box 686
Prairie View, TX 77446

© 2002 by Center for International & Area Studies. All rights reserved.
The African Social Science Review (ISSN 1521-6667) is an annual publication of the Center for International and Area Studies in collaboration with the Office of Research and Development at Prairie View A&M University. This publication seeks articles from all disciplines of social science. The Review particularly welcomes manuscripts on the social, economic, political, and policy problems and issues of the African continent and the Diaspora as well as empirical and theoretical articles. Book reviewers are requested to submit articles on recent publications in related topics. Only papers not currently under review or previously published elsewhere can be considered. All submissions are blind refereed. Clarity and directness of presentation are required.

Manuscripts must be typed and doubled-spaced following the American Psychological Association (APA) guidelines (4th edition) or the Style Manual for Political Science. Four copies should be submitted, three of which have all references that could identify the author or authors removed. Authors are advised to keep copies for their own record since it will not be possible for us to return the manuscripts. We need an abstract of no more than 150 words. The length of the paper should not exceed 25 double-spaced typewritten pages, including notes, references, tables, figures or graphs and appendices; all must be presented on separate pages, with instructions suggesting the placement in the text. Notes and references should appear at the end of the article. A separate cover sheet showing the title of the paper, the name, affiliation, position and address of the author should accompany each submission. To enhance blind review, the body of the text should include the title, but not the authors name. The views of expressed in published articles are those of the authors and not necessarily those of the editors or editorial board.

Subscriptions for institutions is $70.00 annually and $30.00 for individuals.

Editor-in-Chief: Andrew I.E. Ewoh, African Social Science Review, Center for International & Area Studies (CIAS). Prairie View A&M University. P.O. Box 686, Prairie View, Texas 77446-686

Managing Editor: CIAS, Walle Engedayehu, P.O. Box 686 Prairie View, Texas 77446-0686

Associate Editor: Bakama BakamaNume, Center for International and Area Studies, P.O. Box 686 Prairie View, Texas 77446-0686

Editorial Correspondence, Submission of Manuscripts and Business Correspondence.

Manuscripts (four copies) should be submitted along with a $30.00 check or money order, which includes a one-year subscription to the ASSR, to cover the submission fee. An additional copy of the manuscript should be sent to the Managing Editor. Letters and all other business correspondence should be addressed to the Editor-in-Chief at the address listed.

All book reviews should be addressed to the Associate Editor. © 2002 by Center for International & Area Studies.
AFRICAN SOCIAL SCIENCE REVIEW
Volume 2, Number 2, Fall 2002 ~ ISSN 1521-6667

CONTENTS

ARTICLES OF GENERAL INTEREST

The Role of Nongovernmental Organizations in African Public Policy .................................................. 7
Andrew I. E. Ewoh

Nonprofit Organizations in Africa: Financial Strategies and Challenges .............................................. 19
Christie Chilo Onwujuba

Women and Development in Africa: From Marginalization to Gender Inequity ................................. 41
Fredoline O. Anunobi

Macroeconomic and Political Instabilities in Sub-Saharan Africa ......................................................... 64
James Gaius Ibe

Information Technology in Africa: An Exploratory Analysis .............................................................. 77
Emmanuel Uzoma Opara

BOOK REVIEW ........................................................................................................................................ 91
Bedford Nwabueze Umez.
Nigeria: Real Problems, Real Solutions.
Sandra Perumal
ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Fredoline O. Anunobi is an associate professor of political science at Prairie View A&M University, Prairie View, Texas.

Andrew I. E. Ewoh is an associate professor of political science in the College of Arts and Sciences at Prairie View A&M University, Texas.

James Gaius Ibe is on the business administration faculty at Morris College and a senior lecturer of Economics and Business, University of South Carolina at Sumter.

Emmanuel Uzoma Opara is an assistant professor of administrative information systems in the College of Business Administration at Prairie View A&M University, Prairie View, Texas.

Christie Chilo Onwujuba is an assistant professor of public administration in the Nelson Mandela School of Public Policy and Urban Affairs at Southern University, Baton Rouge, Louisiana.
Call for Papers

A future issue of the African Social Science Review (ASSR) will focus on

Democratization and International Aid in Africa

Manuscripts may address any aspect of the following:

- Democratic elections in Africa
- Democracy in Africa: Theoretical Aspects
- African voices and democratization
- The media and elections in Africa
- The role of African Diasporas in general elections in Africa
- Elections and conflict
- Globalization and democracy in Africa
- Prospects for democratic development

Manuscripts should be submitted by March 30, 2003. Authors should use the regular guidelines and procedures for submitting papers to the ASSR. Also, authors can send a Microsoft Word file of their papers as an email attachment to Bakama@pvamu.edu or Andrew_Ewoh@pvamu.edu. Otherwise send four copies to Editor-in-Chief, ASSR, Center for International and Area Studies, Prairie View A&M University, P. O. Box 686, Prairie View, Texas 77446-0686.
African Union Launch,
July 9; 2002

Source:
www.allafrica.com/img/static/daily/0726_au.jpg

All Africa Global Media 2002

PRAIRIE VIEW A&M UNIVERSITY

The Support of Prairie View A&M University is gladly acknowledged
MISSION STATEMENT

Prairie View A&M University is a state-supported institution with a student body that, although changing, is still primarily local and culturally homogeneous. Internationalizing the life of the University in general and the course curriculum particularly became necessary in order to aspire locally-oriented students to see themselves as part of a culturally diverse world, and ever closely an intermeshed "global village," thus necessitating the establishment of the Center for International Area Studies (CIAS). In essence, the Centers launching in 1998 was in response to new trends affecting the nature and operations of American higher education forcing universities and colleges to sharpen their competitive edge in a fast changing global environment. The founding of the Center also can be traced to the realization that the demands of globalization have to be met and that the concerns of both the University and the larger society that it serves in an internationally oriented educational milieu are beginning to converge more than ever.

The Center draws upon the strengths of the rich and diverse background of the faculty and the knowledge and expertise such a faculty enjoys in the language, culture, history and politics of the several regions of the world. The Center assumes its overriding edict to be the promotion of international studies and global understanding through goals and objectives that are complementary to the purpose and mission of the University.

GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

- Offer new avenues for coordinating the international student faculty exchange programs on campus more effectively;
- Increase the chances of centralizing institutionally sanctioned international communications with agencies and authorities overseas;
- Serve as a sort of clearinghouse for research, publications and symposia that pertain to global concerns;
- Help promote and coordinate international festivals and other related activities on campus in order to expose our locally-orientated students to the cultures and traditions of other nations;
African Social Science Review

- Take on the responsibility of curriculum development, language training, study abroad initiatives and recruitment of international students;

- Serve as a contact designate of the University handling inquiries from international agencies, authorities and others concerning matters such as guest appearances, visitations, as well as invitations to international functions, workshops, cultural festivals, and the like;

- Publish an annual journal, African Social Science Review; and

- Assist departments in the preparation for submission of grant proposals to funding agencies.