CONGRATULATIONS!

We wanted to celebrate the 1,000,000th download of materials in the Digital Commons by giving away a basket of prizes to the Library employee who could come closest to guessing the day that it would happen. On May 4th, we had our 1,000,000th download and Laurie Aycock was the winner with her amazingly close guess of May 5th! Congratulations, Laurie!!!

CHANGES --- We are pleased to announce that beginning in June, both Sturgis and Johnson Libraries will be open on Saturday and Sunday for the duration of the Summer Semester. Johnson Library will now be open on Sundays from 1-10 PM, just like the Sturgis Library. In addition, beginning Tuesday, May 31st, both libraries will be open from 8 AM to 10 PM Monday through Thursday.

For a full break down of the Summer Semester schedule for Sturgis, Johnson, and the Performing Arts Library, including holidays, finals, and semester break hours see here:

SAFETY FIRST! --- The librarians and staff of the KSU Library System, as well other KSU staff that reside in the Sturgis Library building, recently participated in a Live Active Shooter Drill conducted by the Office of Emergency Management (OEM). An "active shooter" is an armed individual who has attacked with deadly force one or more persons, and who will continue to randomly seek out and kill as many people as possible.* The drill was successful and the staff involved learned new skills to help them in an emergency situation.

The OEM suggested KSU students, faculty, and staff take advantage of the free LiveSafe app for their smartphones. The LiveSafe app provides students, faculty and staff with a direct connection to campus police so that everyone can easily communicate all their safety needs.
