Stall Street Journal | February 2021

Jennifer Jacobs
Kennesaw State University, jjacob73@kennesaw.edu

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.kennesaw.edu/lib_news

Part of the Library and Information Science Commons

Recommended Citation

https://digitalcommons.kennesaw.edu/lib_news/119

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the University Library System at DigitalCommons@Kennesaw State University. It has been accepted for inclusion in Library Newsletters by an authorized administrator of DigitalCommons@Kennesaw State University. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@kennesaw.edu.
Employee Highlight!
Meet Amanda Nelis:

- Why did you want to start working in libraries?
  - I’ve loved books and reading ever since I can remember (literally: my parents taught me to read at age 3), and thus libraries have always had a special place in my heart. When I graduated from college and couldn’t find a steady job in my chosen field (film production), I applied for a part-time position at my local public library system.

- How did you come to work at KSU?
  - I had a former supervisor who came from the KSU Library System and always spoke highly of it. When I decided to make a career change from public libraries to academic ones, KSU was the first place I thought of going.

Learn more on our social media!