Submissions

The Journal of Global Initiatives is a peer-reviewed, interdisciplinary journal of intercultural and international policy, pedagogy, and perspective. It provides a critical forum for scholarship that examines global learning, diversity initiatives, and comparative studies.

Articles are invited on the following themes:
- Global learning: research, innovations, theory, and best practice in internationalization; assessment of global learning, practices and processes leading to responsible global citizenship; intercultural issues, conflict, and understanding; study abroad from design to evaluation; and scholarship of international teaching or service
- Intersections of local and global issues; identity, ethnicity, and diversity; and multicultural studies
- Primary research on international politics, policies, globalization, and comparative studies

All submissions to the Journal of Global Initiatives should be original unpublished work in English. Feature articles should range from 5,000 to 7,500 words; book reviews, from 750 to 1,000 words, all double-spaced. Submit an electronic version in Word or RTF format. Use APA style throughout. To facilitate the blind-review process, include your name and institutional affiliation, along with a short biographical statement, on the cover page only.

Send all submissions electronically to: aadebayo@kennesaw.edu
