About the Students

The students performing tonight are in various KSU School of Music vocal degree programs such as Vocal Performance, Music Education, Bachelor of Arts and Music Theater. All students studying voice have lessons every week, including studio class and Voice Symposium, a recital class. Most voice students attend music theory, music history, diction, vocal pedagogy, conducting, opera training, as well as perform in at least one choir. Due to our excellent vocal program at KSU, singers are able to perform with first-rate pianists, chamber ensembles, and orchestras. Singers with degrees in voice often go on to prestigious graduate programs or successful teaching careers.
