HCLS to Host Small Business Lunch & Learns

Henry County Library System (HCLS) has partnered with the Henry County Development Authority to bring the Small Business Lunch & Learn sessions for entrepreneurs to guide them through the process of starting and growing a business.

Henry County Library System

On Tuesday, October 7 at the McDonough Public Library, the sessions began with "Foundations." Panelists included Alisa Kirk, Area Director, Small Business Development Center; Melissa Malcom, Attorney-at-Law, Melissa P. Malcom LLC; and Eve Young, Business License Coordinator, Henry County Tax Commissioner's Office.

HCLS will host a total of five sessions that will discuss the key components to operating a successful business. Each session will be staffed with community experts to answer questions and direct participants to much needed resources.

Lunch & Learn sessions:

- October 7, Foundations – When do you need a business license? Should you be an LLC?
- November 4, Financing – How do you pay for this? When are you solid enough to expand?
- December 2, Operations – Is your structure and delivery efficient?
- January 2, Marketing – Business is started, now how do you get the word out?
- February 3, Human Resources – How do you develop a workforce and stay out of hot water?

Each session costs $10 and lunch is provided. Henry County Development Authority will provide a limited number of scholarships to attend a Lunch & Learn session for those in need. All sessions will be held at the McDonough Public Library located at 1001 Florence McGarity Blvd., McDonough, GA, 30252.
