ARCHIVE NOTES

An Association for Documentary Editing was formed in St. Louis in November 1978 following the creation of a steering committee at Hyde Park last April. Its constitution states that the organization's purpose is to "encourage excellence in documentary editing" and to promote a "broader understanding of the principles and values underlying the practice of documentary editing." Officers elected are: President, Arthur S. Link, Woodrow Wilson Papers; President-Elect, Lester Cappon, Newberry Library; Director of Publications, Robert Rutland, James Madison Papers; Secretary-Treasurer, Carlene Bickford, Documentary History of the First Federal Congress. Annual dues are $15.00 ($7.50 for students, retired, and unemployed persons). Contact Charlene Bickford, Documentary History of the First Federal Congress, George Washington University, Washington, DC 20052.

The College and University Archives Committee of the Society of American Archivists has prepared extensive guidelines for college and university archives. Printed in the January 1979 issue of the SAA Newsletter, the guidelines cover everything from administration to appraisal/accessioning to public service to records management, and should be quite useful to both developing and fully developed university archives programs.

Portland State University is now offering a two-year degree field in Public History as one of several fields available to students seeking an MA degree in history. Public History is defined as "the profession of history outside the classroom." Students in the program will work closely with faculty in Anthropology, Business, History, Journalism, Urban Studies, and with special faculty from the Oregon Historical Society. Upon completion of the program students will be prepared for careers in state and local museums and historical societies, government and historical archives, and the related fields of urban planning and design. For further information write Public History, Department of History, Portland State University, P. O. Box 751, Portland, Oregon 97207.

The Society of American Archivists is now making available for circulation its Information Central Files. Information on job descriptions, salaries, freedom of information, procedural guides and manuals, public records, newsletters, college and university archives, and much more is available on loan for up to ten days. Write to Deborah Risteen at SAA headquarters, 330 S. Wells St., Suite 810, Chicago, Illinois 60606.

The Southern Life Histories Editing and Indexing Project is seeking to complete its collection of Southern Life Histories, collected by the WPA Federal Writers' Project. Many of the Histories are already in the Project's collection in the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Anyone with any information on the whereabouts of any Southern Life Histories is urged to contact Jerrold Hirsch, UNC at Chapel Hill, Wilson Library 024A, Chapel Hill, North Carolina 27514.

The U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia has ruled that transcripts and secretarial notes of former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger are government property. Kissinger had donated the papers to the Library of Congress as though they were his own. He is appealing the ruling to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The University of Washington has published its Manual for Accessioning, Arrangement and Description of Manuscripts and Archives. It is a two-part manual dealing with both theory and practice. The manual contains instructions for developing intellectual control at successive levels, beginning with the accession and proceeding through subgroup, series, folder, and item. Send $5.00 to University of Washington Libraries, FM-25, Publications Office, Seattle, Washington 98195.

The Louisiana State Legislature appropriated $7,000,000 in 1978 for the construction of a new archives building in Baton Rouge. Construction is expected to begin during the 1979-1980 fiscal year. The facility will have in excess of 115,000 square feet, including over 100,000 cubic feet of space for archives and over 90,000 cubic feet for records storage, three times the capacity of the present facility, a converted warehouse. Temperature and humidity controls, fumigation, deacidification, and repair facilities will also be included. The modern facility will insure the centralized location and preservation of the state's permanent records.
