

CALL FOR PAPERS

The Journal of Global Initiatives

SPECIAL ISSUE ON MOROCCO

Submission Deadline: May 31, 2019

The Journal of Global Initiatives is pleased to announce a Call for Papers (CFP) for its special edition on Morocco, scheduled to be published in the Fall of 2019. The JGI is a refereed interdisciplinary journal of international policy, pedagogy and perspectives, published twice-yearly by Kennesaw State University.

We solicit contributions from all disciplines related to any aspect of life and culture, past and present, related to the study of Morocco. We are particularly interested in papers that address ever-changing Moroccan identities with a special focus on the cultural, economic, political and social agency of young women and men. Potential topics include but are not limited to:

- Morocco at the intersection of Berber, Arab, African and European identities
- Colonialism's impact on Moroccan Identity
- Women in Morocco's history and development
- The new constitution and its impact on women's empowerment
- Women and social entrepreneurship in Morocco
- Education and urban/rural accessibility across Morocco
- Multilingual literacy in Morocco
- Youth's involvement and role in Morocco's development
- Civil society and social movements in Morocco
- The role of youth in the Moroccan Arab spring
- Youth, popular culture, communication technology and social transformation in Morocco
- Expression of Moroccan Identity through Art and Music
- Moroccan architecture and identity
- Islam and Interreligious Dialogue in Morocco
- Gender identity and LGBTQ rights in Morocco
- The role of youth in Morocco's environmental initiatives

All submissions should be original, previously unpublished works in English. Feature articles should range from 5,000 to 7,500 words; book reviews, from 750 to 1,000 words. To facilitate the blind-review process do not include your name or institutional affiliation in the article itself. The editorial style of the JGI is the APA Style. Please prepare your manuscripts in the APA Style. For complete information about journal submissions, please see the JGI website at <http://digitalcommons.kennesaw.edu/jgi/>

To be considered for the Special Edition on Morocco, all articles must be submitted electronically as an attachment through the above Digital Commons website on or before May 31, 2019.
